About the DEI Summit

This summit is intended to empower youth leaders by elevating and activating their voices in areas such as public service, family, community engagement, and community organizing. When our youth build their capacity to be better advocates for positive change, they strengthen their communities and the organizations at which they work, volunteer, and support.

What Is Educational Equity?

At Communities In Schools® (CIS®), we believe that every student, regardless of race, gender, ability, ZIP code, or socioeconomic background, deserves access to a quality education. Now more than ever, we must find ways to create equitable learning conditions for ALL students, with students at the center, surrounded by a caring community with access to all necessary resources.

Join us to encourage our young and emerging leaders to take up the charge of improving the status quo when it comes to access to equal and quality education for all.

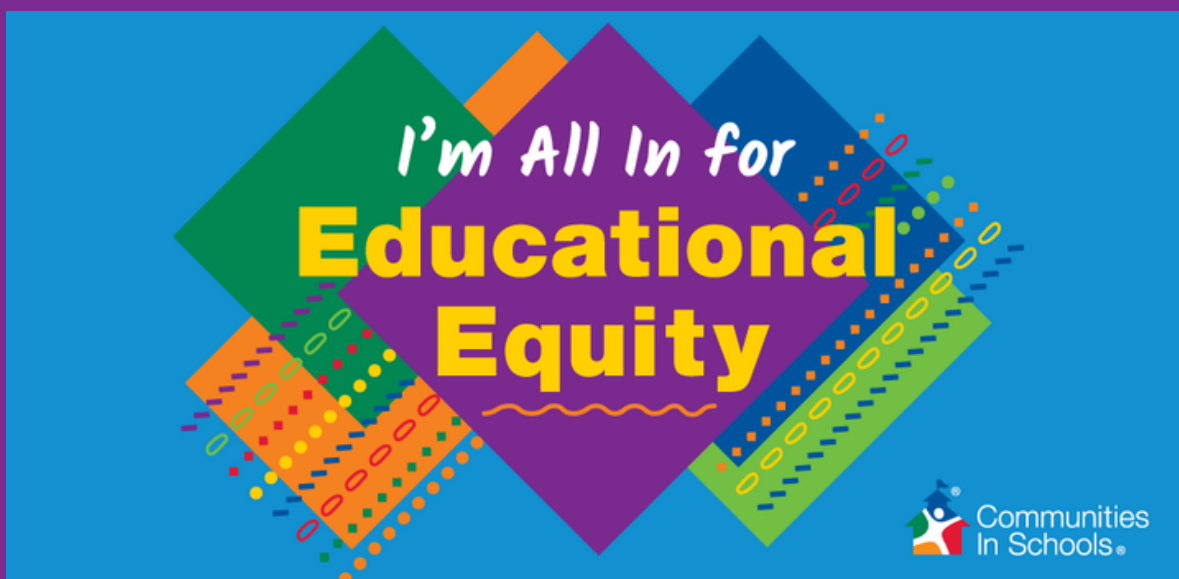

Take Action with CIS!

Join us on Wednesday, November 16, at 5pm/ET at the Lincoln Memorial to share in our Power of IN: A celebration towards educational equity!

Our goal for this celebration is to create awareness and momentum around the movement towards educational equity and the importance of giving students the integrated student supports they need to succeed in school and achieve in life.

I'm excited for the "Power of IN: A celebration towards educational equity" that's taking place on the steps of the historic Lincoln Memorial! Our goal is to create awareness around the movement for educational equity and the importance of giving students the integrated community supports they need to eliminate barriers to success in school and in life. #AllinforKids

I believe that every student deserves access to a quality education, regardless of their race, gender, ability, ZIP code, or socioeconomic background. Education means opportunity and freedom. I support Communities In Schools because their model brings a caring community of support inside schools and creates access to resources necessary for student success. #AllinforKids
